What the critics say about Stu Goldberg:

"Goldberg turns the piano inside out."

-- Lee Underwood, Record Review

"Intriguing compositions and imaginative improvisations."

--Don Heckman, Los Angeles Times

"Spirited displays of virtuosity."

--George Wanamaker, Downbeat

"A masterful pianist and exquisite musical storyteller."

-- Mark E. Gallo, jazzreview.com

"A genuine sense of exploration."

--Dave Conway, Melody Maker

"Uncanny accuracy."

-- Robert Palmer, The New York Times

"Goldberg... transcends boundaries - between jazz and chamber music, between Europe, America and India, between composition and improvisation..."

-- Joachim E. Berendt, Stereo

"At times Goldberg strokes the keys as tenderly as Cezanne paints pastel colors on a canvas... a pianist who's fingers seem to be made of rubber... his compositions showcase a talented visionary musician with great technique who creates his own universe through the piano."

-- Dieter Gruenfeld, Berliner Morgenpost
